Nan Li is a top-performing commercial real estate broker distinguished by her outstanding market expertise, exceptional dedication, and unwavering commitment to results. She advises domestic and international clients on sales, leasing, site selection, and complex assignments across industrial, land, office, and retail. Nan is particularly experienced in helping manufacturing companies establish and expand operations in Texas. A decisive, solutions-driven dealmaker, she combines strategic insight, creative problem-solving, and relentless follow-through to overcome obstacles and move challenging transactions to successful completion. Her integrity, responsiveness, and client-first approach have earned her a reputation as an exceptionally trusted advisor.

Nan's success as a broker is strengthened by her background as a registered Texas architect and former executive with Hilton Worldwide, a Fortune 500 global company. Her architectural expertise and corporate leadership experience prepared her to anticipate risks, resolve complex issues, align diverse stakeholders, and navigate demanding transactions with executive-level judgment. This distinctive combination of brokerage expertise, technical knowledge, and leadership experience enables her to consistently deliver exceptional results.
