Liam Wagner is a Senior Associate at Younger Partners, specializing in existing industrial properties and land across the Dallas–Fort Worth and Houston markets. Known for his market knowledge and network, Liam represents buyers and sellers in acquisition, disposition, and site selection.

Liam began his career as a summer intern at Younger Partners while studying at LSU and returned full-time after graduating. He quickly established himself as a trusted advisor, bringing energy, strategic insight, and a results-driven approach to every transaction. His ability to identify value in both stabilized assets and development-ready sites makes him a valuable resource for clients ranging from owner-users to institutional investors. His focus, responsiveness, and deep understanding of market dynamics have helped him stand out in one of the most competitive real estate sectors in Texas.
